Regional Learning Exchange

Carnegie Center for Advancement of Teaching and Learning

October 26, 2019

8:30am-3:30pm

Stanford, CA

Outcomes	Agreements
1. Cultivate relational trust among participants by connecting to the spirit and soul of our work as leaders 2. Increase self-efficacy as instructional leaders in mathematics and academic discourse (AD) by reflecting on assets and challenges of EC-NIC implementation 3. Improve evidenced-based observation processes by reviewing and analyzing observational evidence	• Honor all agreements • Seek to understand & avoid making assumptions • Pay attention to and encourage equitable participation • Be on time

Learning Exchange Axioms

- Learning and leadership are dynamic social processes.
- Conversations are critical and central pedagogical processes.
- The people closest to the issues are best situated to discover answers to local concerns.
- Crossing boundaries enriches development and the educational process.
- Hope and change are built on assets and dreams of locals and their communities
