Personal Narrative
This Is Not a Small Voice

Sonia Sanchez

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5JxMXZVafKk> (Sonia Sanchez talking about learning to become a poet.)

This is not a small voice
you hear this is a large voice coming out of these cities.
This is the voice of LaTanya.
Kadesha. Shaniqua. This is the voice of Antoine.
Darryl. Shaquille.
Running over waters
navigating the hallways of our schools spilling out on the corners of our cities and no epitaphs spill out of their river mouths.

This is not a small love
you hear this is a large
love, a passion for kissing learning on its face.
This is a love that crowns the feet with hands
that nourishes, conceives, feels the water sails
mends the children, folds them inside our history where they toast more than the flesh where they suck the bones of the alphabet
and spit out closed vowels.

This is a love colored with iron and lace.
This is a love initialed Black Genius.

This is not a small voice
you hear.

While the poem speaks mainly to African American young people, you can substitute any student's name for the person in the poem.

Think of a young person whose story you carry with you, who has touched you in a special way, whose voice is not a small voice inside your head whenever you need encouragement or a reminder of why you are who you are doing what you do.

What is about the young person that stays with you and motivates you to do work on behalf of all young people?

Discuss this with your EC-NIC group. Put that young person's name on your poster. When you are finished, turn back to the group; each person will call the young person's name into the space. All will answer PRESENTE.
